Indiana Women's History Conference

The bicentennial of statehood provides an ideal opportunity to discuss and analyze the many contributions of women's work to Indiana history. Thus, the Indiana Historical Bureau and the Indiana State Library will host "Hoosier Woman at Work," a women's history symposium, on March 26, 2016, at the Indiana State Library and Historical Building in downtown Indianapolis.

Espacenet Patent Searching training Sept 15 & 17

Indianapolis Public Library is offering staff training on Patent Searching using Espacenet on Tuesday, Sept 15th from 2:00 – 4:30 pm and Advanced Searching using PubEast on Thursday, Sept 17th from 10 am – 11:30 pm. LEUs are pending. Both trainings will be held at the Central Library Computer Lab at 40 East St. Clair St, Indianapolis, IN. Space is limited. Call 275-4808 if you are interested in registering.

This one-day conference will explore and expand knowledge of women's contributions to Indiana through their labor via speakers, presentations, and panel discussions. The theme, "Hoosier Woman at Work" is broadly defined but not limited to the following topics: volunteering for public welfare, contributing to Indiana's agricultural heritage, caring for home and family, and wage earning occupations.

Conference papers (approximately 10 pages) may be based on original research, synthesis of scholarship, or participant experience. Sessions will consist of two or three papers with comments.

To submit a proposal for a paper, send a one-page proposal for the presentation and a one-page c.v. Panel proposals should include a one-page proposal which specifies the topic each participant will discuss, and a one-page c.v. per participant. Academic, public, and independent historians, as well as graduate students, are eligible to present papers. All presenters must be present at the conference.

The deadline for submitting paper and /or session proposals is December 1, 2015. E-mail submissions are encouraged and will be accepted until the deadline.

Submit proposals to:

State Fair August 7-23

The Indiana State Library is excited to announce that it will be sharing a booth in the Harvest Pavilion with the Indiana Department of Education at this year's Indiana State Fair.

If you plan to attend the fair, please stop by and say hello. We will have new brochures to share with the public as well as INSPIRE materials.

The Difference is YOU

Plan to attend this one day professional development event, specifically tailored for Indiana library support staff and paraprofessionals. This event has been designed with YOU in mind and will cover the following topics:

- Technology instruction from eReaders to INSPIRE
- Management of staff
- Serving students/customers/patrons with disabilities
- Collection development and weeding
- Engaging your community
- And so much more!

Participants will have the opportunity to attend one general keynote session with the dynamic Lauren Burnett and five breakout sessions of your choice, as well as a networking lunch.

Date: September 22, 2015

needs of your audience and institution.

We are very excited to welcome Nancy Sims as our conference keynote speaker. Nancy is the University of Minnesota Libraries' subject specialist on copyright issues. She is a practicing librarian, with a wealth of experience working in academic libraries. She's also a lawyer, and is fascinated by the pervasiveness of copyright issues in modern life.

State Library announces new Saturday hours effective September 1, 2015

Effective September 1, 2015, the Indiana State Library will open from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Saturdays. This is a two hour change from the previous hours of 8 a.m. to 4p.m.

The decision to change Saturday hours was made to align with other state agencies in the downtown area.

"The new Saturday hours will align with the Indiana Statehouse and the Indiana State Museum," said State Librarian Jacob Speer. "This alleviates any confusion to anyone visiting the downtown historic sites and focuses the hours we are open during the times when we have our most customers."
